Using NUIX, we have the capability to fully process large volumes of data resulting in substantial efficiencies and cost savings for clients.	Brainspace, the industry leader in interrogating data sets, enables us to identify responsive documents in the most cost-effective manner via threading, clustering, and TAR.	With short message format becoming more common in discovery, Lineal has the ability to search, analyze, and review such formats.	Relativity, the industry leading web-based document review system, allows us to conduct document reviews of all sizes intelligently and efficiently.	Exolution's advanced native redaction tool enables us to perform complex redactions via manual point-and-click or automated mass redactions based on provided criteria.
